THE CANAL CONTRACTS—TROUBLE AMONG THE POLITICIANS—RUMORED BLACK MAIL ARRANGEMENT.

ALBANY, Dec. 19, 1851. The absence of an office holder from the capital is atsted to the circumstance that the Canal Board rebeed to give a certain prominent capitalist in New secretd that a bargain was made that, in con-ion of that contract being perfected, black mail was to be handed over to the amount of five per cent. If this should be proved against said officer, it will ruin him forever in the estimation of all honorable men. It is said that he has been the catspaw of the hunkers, who were combined to secure this mammeth contract.

Nothing has yet transpired in relation to the hunker Canal Commissioners. Whether they are concerned in the transaction, is at present unknown.

The battalion of political contractors who have been besieging the Canal Board, have mostly left the city in It is now quite certain that no contracts will be given

A resolution was proposed declaring that the people of New Orleans would not allow the Spanish flag to be hotstened in that city, until John 8. Thrasher is released. The following resolutions were finally adopted:—
Resolved, That the case of Mr. Thrasher, showing the insecurity of American citizens abroad, clearly demonstrating the necessity of a more active vindication of the national honor, calls for a fair, manly, an i decisive protect, a positive, unconditional reclamation of person, and a peremptory warning for the future upon the part of this government.

Received, That, hereafter, the government established to protect the interests and guard the rights of citizens—the functions of all governments, and without which government is worth nothing—should come forward more promptly than heretofere, to vindicate private liberty and public rights, even if such vindication should render necessary an appeal to arms.

Resolved, That we confidently hope the present na-tional administration will promptly vindicate the national horor, the private rights and immunities of American editizenship, and the American flar, thereby commanding respect for the country abroad, and safety for the citi-zens the wide world over.

Melancholy Accounts from Jamaica.

FRIGHTFUL RAVAGES OF CHOLERA, ETC.
By the arrival of the Bermuda steamer at Hallfax, we have Jamaica dates to Nov. 20th.

Berious differences have taken place with his Excellency Sir Charles Grey. His speech on the opening of the Legislature had given great offence to both branches. The cholera, instead of being on the decline, was extending its lavages in many parts of the island. The Morning Journal 1849:—"From all parts of the country our accounts are lamentable. The peasantry are again being swept off, and the disease is spreading fearfully, while the violence with which it arts leaves but little time for the beneficial application of medicine. At Montego Bay, the town is infected in all quarters. At Leith estate the mortality has been very great. Death is carrying off his thirty or forty victims daily from that property and neighboring estates. The effect of this disastrous state of affairs is already manifest in mercantile matters."

Boston Broker Robbed of $4,000.

About five o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Ellis, a broker, eccupying an office at 16 State street, was robbed of $4.000 in bills and gold. The thief snatched it from the counter, and fied, while Mr. E. was preparing to close the office. The robber has been arrested, but the money has not yet been found.

Serious Railroad Accident.

Aleany, Dec. 19, 1851.

The passenger train from Boston, last evening, when within a few rods of the Albany depot, ran off the track into the engine house, demolishing a portion of the wall, and throwing one lococomotive into it and another through the wall of the building. The locomotive had previously been detached from the train, and had been ewitched off the track to go into the engine house; but the switch tender had neglected to place the switch in a proper position for the train. The building was much damaged; but fertunately no person was seriously injured.

City Intelligence.

Bad Theatment of a Gial by hea Aunt.—A young Irish girl, named Mary O'Bonnell, was arrested yesterday, charged with robbing the house of her aunt, Bridget McCarthy, No. 76 Muberry street. She was brought up before Justice Mountfort, when she stated that she arrived in this country about two months ago from Ireland, and at the solicitation of Bridget McCarthy, she put up at the house she then occupied, No. 57 Mott street, and after remaining there some few days she found that it was a house of ill fame. She endeavored at once to leave, but was prevented by her aunt who had her money and clothes, and refused to give them up. She was shamefully treated during the time she was detained in her aunt's house, and again attempted to leave it, when a policeman was called in, who arrested the girl and took her before Justice Mountfort. He has issued a warrant for the arrest of Bridget McCarthy.

Miss Lind is expected to arrive in the city this day, and has engaged apartments for herself and suite at the Union Place Hotel.

ITALIAN OPERA HOUSE.—The excellent production of "Robert le Diable" again drew a large and fashionable assemblage last evening, and the plece throughout was as successful as on the night of its first representation. The orchestration was, as usual, exceedingly effective, and the choruses were rendered with great harmony. The artists, generally speaking, considering the severity of the season, and the effect which sharp, piercing weather always has on the vocal organs, acquitted themselves entirely to the swifaction of the audience. "Lucresia Borgia" will be performed this evening, and on Monday Maretzek's benefit will come of, when "Robert le Diable" will be repeated. Those who are aware that the artists get all, and the managers very little, should remember Maretzek's homeon Monday evening.
